

Sheriff Completes Course

SALT LAKE CITY—Edwin Thacker, Wasatch County sheriff, has completed the County Officials Institute sponsored by the University of Utah Center for Public Affairs and Administration.

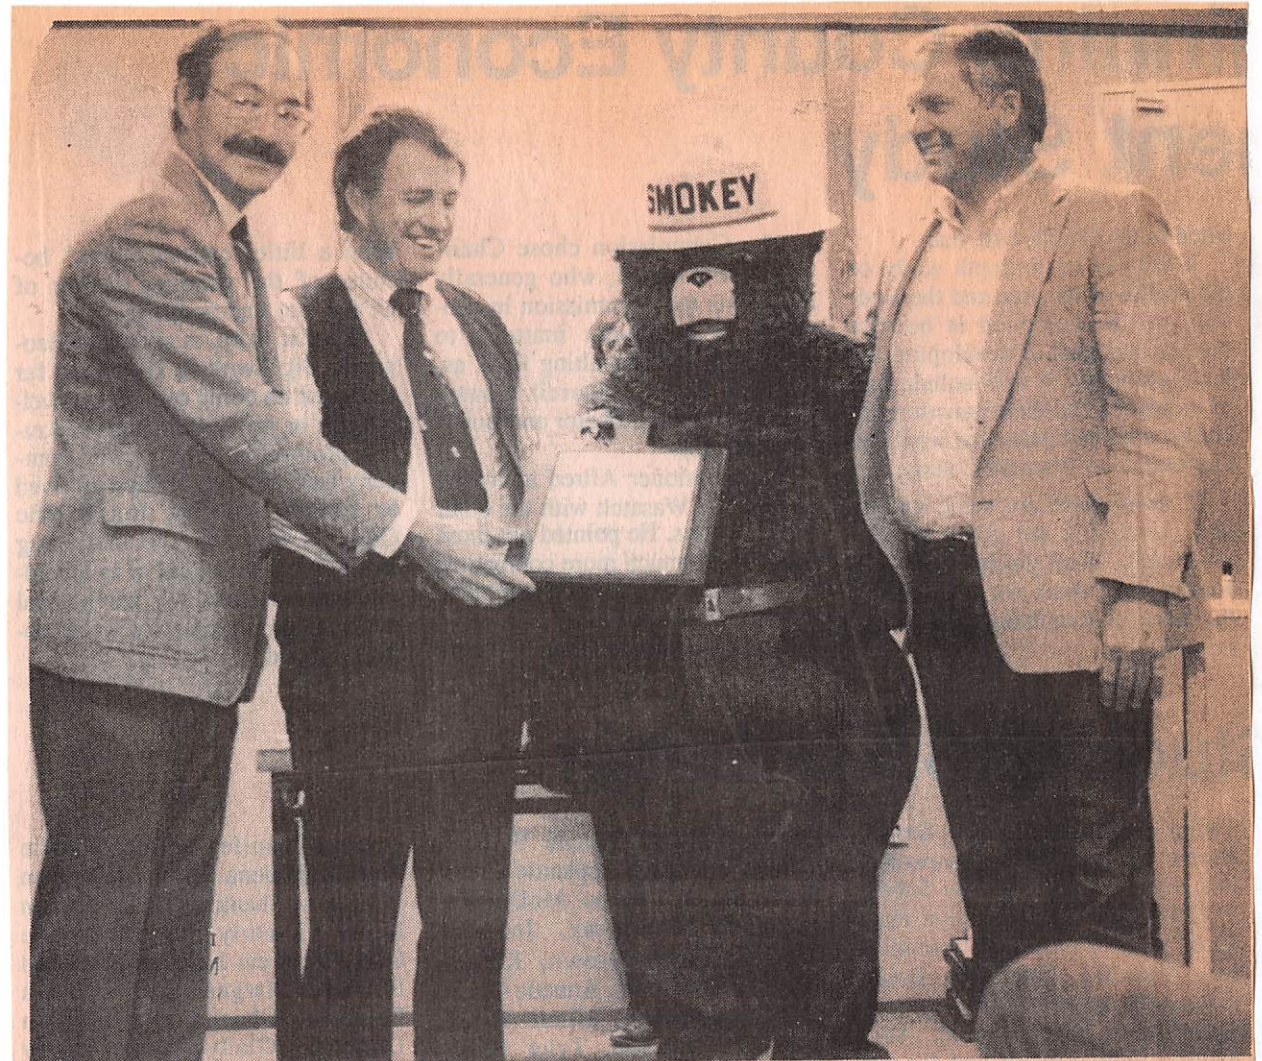

This year's institute focused on conflict management. Dr. Brenda Hancock, manager of training and organizational development for Salt Lake County and adjunct professor of communication at the U of U, led the program.

This is what marijuana looks like. Sheriff Edd Thacker said he has received many calls from citizens who would like to be able to identify the species, in case they have some growing in their yards, as one innocent woman found last week. This plant is not as healthy as some because the Sheriff's office has not been taking very good care of it since deputies confiscated it more than a week ago.

Sheriff Edd Thacker and Kent Berg received the Governor's Award For Outstanding Service in Utah's Wildland Fire Program. Deputy Lt. Gov. Dave Hansen made the presentation on behalf of Gov. Bangerter to Sheriff Thacker, who accepted for the Wasatch County Sheriff's Office, and to Kent Berg for the Wasatch County Public Works Department. The awards were presented Monday, Oct. 31, at the Annual Fire Wardens' Wrap-up Meeting, which is hosted each year by the Utah Division of State Lands and Forestry. This is an exceptional honor any year, but it takes on special meaning this year since Utah just endured one of the worst fire seasons in the state's history. Left to right, Deputy Lt. Governor Dave Hansen, Sheriff Edd Thacker, Smokey Bear, and Kent Berg.

Lightning Kills Boy, 12

STRAWBERRY RESER-VOIR — Terrell Henry Vance Jr., 12, Murray, was struck by lightning and killed here Sunday as he waded through the rain to his parents' camper.

The boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Terrell H. Vance, 515 W.
5720 South, Murray, was found dead and lying face down across his fishing pole after an extensive search by Utah National Guardsmen, Wasatch County Jeep Posse members and Sheriff Floyd Witt.

BACK TO CAMP

Terrell and a younger brother were fishing with their father on the shoreline of the reservoir when it began to rain, between 2:30 and 3 p.m. Terrell decided to walk back to the family's camper.

When Vance and his younger son arrived at the camper shortly before 5 p.m. they were told by Mrs. Vance that Terrell had not returned.
After a preliminary search, Vance telephoned Sheriff Witt.

After the sheriff and Jeep Posse members arrived at the reservoir, they enlisted men of Company C, 1457th Engineer Battalion, Provo, in the search. The Guardsmen are doing summer camp road work in the area and were en route to Duchesne.

PASSED NEAR

"We spread them out across the fields and moved from the camper down to the lake and back again," Witt said. "We must have walked within 10-15 feet of the boy several times before we found him, a little after 6 p.m."

The Vance youngster was found in the middle of a sage-was hitting all around the res-

"There was a lot of lightning during the storm and it was hittin all around the reservoir," Witt said.

Dr. Jack Boggess, Heber City, pronounced the boy dead and said the lightning left a pattern of marks on his body.

DEDICATION HIGHLIGHTS of ceremonies at the new Wasatch County Courthouse in Heber City this weekend are captured by the Herald cameraman. Top, Floyd L. Witt, Wasatch County sheriff, stands in the door of the new jail facilities, which replaced an outmoded old jail built well over half a century ago. Bottom, pledge of allegiance is given by top officials present during the ceremonies, from left, Fourth District Judge Maurice Harding, and Wasatch County Commissioners Elmo Jacobsen, Russell Wall and Grant Shelton. Some 200 attended the ceremonies to dedicate the $391,000 structure on Saturday. It is built on the site of the old courthouse which was torn down. (Full details of the dedication were carried in Sunday's Herald)
